Is this trail for you?

With almost 25 km of this trail hiked above treeline, the Skyline is Jasper's highest and possibly most scenic trail. The high elevation allows for amazing views that extend over much of the park, encompassing vast meadows and windswept ridges. Crossing three mountain passes, the Skyline Trail offers a variety of flora, fauna and scenery unique to Jasper National Park. The section of trail called "The Notch" can be impassable early in the season.

The details

The Skyline Trail is Jasper's most popular backcountry hiking trail and books up quickly. The most popular direction to hike the Skyline is from south (Maligne Lake) to north, since you lose more elevation than you gain. Most hikers travel the Skyline Trail in 2 – 3 days, though it's nice to have an extra day to explore the alpine areas along the way. Highlights include Little Shovel Pass at km 10.3, Big Shovel Pass at km 17.5, the high col named "The Notch" and the alpine ridge hiking beyond. Snow can persist late into the summer season on this high elevation trail.

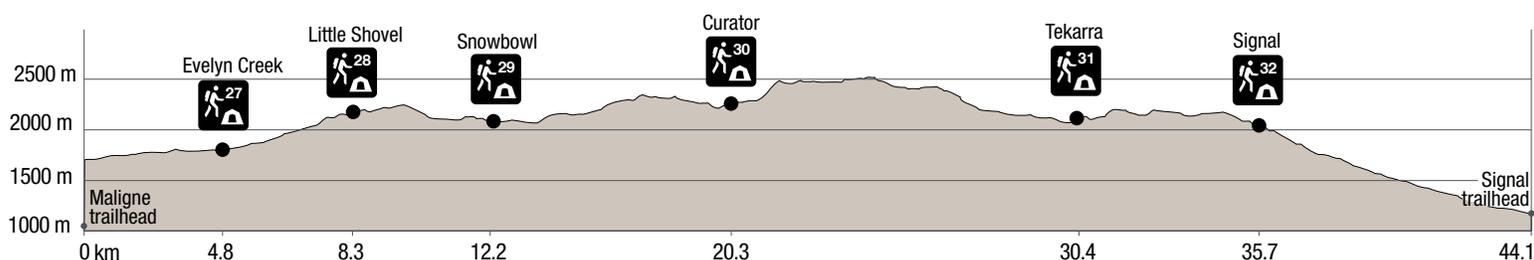

During poor weather, the 15 km Wabasso Trail can be used as an escape route. It has a steep descent of 1100 m and ends on the Icefields Parkway 14 km south of Jasper.

- Fires are not permitted at any of the campgrounds.
- Dogs are not permitted on the Skyline Trail between Maligne Lake and the Signal Campsite.
- No bikes are permitted between Maligne Lake and Signal Fire Road.
- This trail can typically only be hiked between early July and early October. Snow can fall any time of the year
- The Watchtower trail intersects the Skyline Trail. There is no bridge across the Maligne River near the Watchtower trailhead. In high water, the river can be impassable.
